My dear Sir

You will be wondering what I am at with Mr D's Album - and I shall be increasing the suspicion of embarrassing it. I have been by these presents that I have been gripped fast by the two these two days and can't get out of doors - though (don't mention it) gout. I don't know whether it accords with your ideas of the eternal fitness of things to sholl them for some time and look in upon me. The Album is ready - I have kept it at home and put in paint, but I have no one to send, not liking to trust it to a Parcel Company in the way Irish servants.

With kindest regards to you Yours very truly
